

Sour Grapes

One day a fox saw some grapes.

They were hanging from a tree and so they were very high above the ground.

It was a hot day and the fox was hungry and thirsty.

'Oh, look at those beautiful grapes,' he said and jumped up.

But the grapes were too high. He couldn't reach them.

He jumped up again and again.

But he couldn't reach the grapes.

Finally he was very hot and tired.

'Oh, I didn't want those grapes,' he said.

'Maybe they were sour anyway.'

From Progress in English 21 Revised1